

Soviet Planes May Launch Spaceships

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union may have developed a system using manned rocket planes to launch spaceships, satellites and intercontinental missiles, some U. S. intelligence specialists report.

Their conclusions, based on analysis of available Russian publications, were made public Friday after having been kept in the secret file for nine months.

The accuracy of their findings is not fully accepted by the government. And some sources point out that the system, if the Soviets have developed it, is not completely new.

The United States, they noted, is developing an air-launched ballistic missile, the Skybolt, to be carried by B-52 bombers. The Skybolt would have a range of 1,000 miles.

However, the intelligence analysts said there was reason to believe the Russians already have used the air-launch system in a number of space shots.

Here is how the Russians apparently worked it, according to the 160-page intelligence report: Two manned rocketplanes were attached to opposite sides of a powerful rocket engine, thus acting as first-stage rockets for the launching.

Near the fringes of space, the planes detached from the larger rocket and were flown back to earth by their pilots.

The second stage rocket then continued into space, carrying a third stage that eventually completed the flight on its own.

The reported development could have significance in missile warfare and space programs as the first-stage rocketplanes would be recovered and used again.

The government cautioned, "The publication of this report does not constitute approval by any U. S. government organization of the inferences, findings and conclusions contained herein. It is published solely for the exchange and stimulation of ideas." The document, entitled, "Comprehensive Analysis of Soviet Space Program, Based on Soviet Open Literature 1958-61," is being distributed by the Commerce Department's Office of Technical Services.

The report said the rocketplane launching system apparently was used in a series of Soviet missile tests over the Pacific early in 1960.

Stolen Plane Results in Death, Injury

MEMPHIS (AP) — One young sailor lay in a bed of pain today and another was in a coffin — the result of a fiery crash that ended a joyride in a stolen plane.

Officers were waiting to question Charles R. Fite, 18, of Seattle, Wash., listed in serious condition at the Memphis Naval Air Station hospital.

Physicians said Fite could not be interrogated about Thursday's crash for several days. He suffered second and third degree burns over about 30 per cent of his body.

Killed in the crash of the Champion Tri-Traveler was Walter Lewis Burrell, 18, of Atlanta, a student in an aviation mechanics school at the naval base.

Sheriff's Capt. O. J. Billings said the plane was stolen from a small private field where Burrell was taking flight instructions. He had not soloed.

The plane roared aloft shortly after midnight and crashed within minutes when the cold engine sputtered and failed.

"They were making a u-turn," a witness told Billings. "It sounded like the engine was cold. Then it quit."

The plane crashed through some trees in a river bottom near here.

Invasion Force

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Havana radio said today the United States is training Cuban invasion forces in jungle camps in the Panama Canal Zone.

Weather

Precipitation for January 5.22 inches; during the same period a year ago, 1.55 inches.

Arkansas — Cloudy and colder with occasional rain in south portion, snow in north portion.

SILENT RAIDER—As her crew looks on, the second of West Germany's growing submarine fleet is launched at shipyard in Kiel. Twelve of these U-boats are scheduled to join the undersea fleet. Scene is reminiscent of World War II when German "wolf packs" sent thousands of tons of Allied shipping to the bottom of the ocean.

Church to Show Movie 'Seventeen'

Sunday at 7:30 p. m. for one showing only, the motion picture film "Seventeen" will be shown at the Southside Assembly. This film has become firmly established as one of the most significant religious motion pictures ever released.

Used in literally thousands of high schools, as well as by churches of all denominations, "Seventeen" presents the Gospel in language teen-agers understand.

"Seventeen" tells the story of a typical American high school, in which a most unusual thing happened. A group of students, determined to make Christ known, organized a Bible Club. The influence of the club reaches to all areas of school life.

Hot rods, football, pulsating action, all combine to make this film intensely effective. "Seventeen" shown at the Southside Assembly, there will be no admission fee. The public is invited by Rev. S. Joseph Geno, pastor.

Flash Mutiny in Turkey Is Smashed

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — A flash mutiny by disgruntled young army officers that brought Turkey to the brink of civil war was declared smashed today. The armed forces chiefs stood firmly by Premier Ismet Inonu.

The premier, 78, signaled that the bloodless revolt had been ended when he went on the air with a brief, pre-dawn announcement that his government was in command.

Reliable army sources said authorities have seized ringleaders of the brief revolt touched off by discontent over slow progress in carrying out reforms in land allocation, taxes, education and agriculture.

"The Turkish armed forces are on duty and have the situation under control," said Inonu. "Their prime duty is to protect and defend the constitution and the entity of the motherland, and they will fulfill this duty."

Inonu made his announcement a few hours after rebellious troops had seized strategic buildings in Ankara in a bid to topple his government.

The rebels led by a group of young colonels and reportedly supported by Gen. Muhittin Onur, chief of ground forces, apparently caught the government by surprise as they took over strategic points.

"They were making a u-turn," a witness told Billings. "It sounded like the engine was cold. Then it quit."

The plane crashed through some trees in a river bottom near here.

Bonanza Players Are Injured

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dan Blocker, 33, "Hoss" of the Bonanza series, and his TV brother, Robert Pernell, 32, who plays Adam, were injured during the filming Thursday at Iverson's Ranch in the San Fernando Valley.

An NBC spokesman said Pernell's mount fell and Blocker's went over him. Both men were taken to Northridge Emergency Hospital and then transferred to the care of a bone specialist, Dr. Jack Mosheim, who said Blocker suffered a fractured left collar bone and Pernell sprains of neck muscles. Blocker will be in a cast for four weeks, the physician said.

Smoker's Caught Played Havoc

STOCKPORT, England (AP) — Kenneth Wilkins told the court Thursday his smoker's cough was responsible for the havoc he caused in his car one night.

Wilkins claimed that during a fit of coughing he lost control of his auto which mounted a sidewalk, injured a pedestrian, bent a no-parking sign, wrecked a shop window and smashed into the wall of a pub.

The court acquitted him of dangerous driving.

Says Program Didn't Show Move to Right

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "CBS Reports" in its 60 minute look at the growing conservative movement in this country, Thursday night handled a hot, controversial subject with kid gloves, and the result, unfortunately, was a bland, inconclusive program.

It concentrated on some of the well publicized organizations and individuals included in the phrase "right-wing." Robert Welch of the John Birch Society was shown angrily refusing to be interviewed. A group of Missouri "Minutemen" were seen on a practice guerrilla patrol, looking for Soviet boats on the Mississippi River. Dr. Fred Schwarz of the Christian Anti-Communist Crusade was pictured lecturing on the dangers of communism and selling his literature to an audience of old folks.

There were bits of speeches and statements by individuals including Texas oil millionaire H. L. Hunt and Captain Eddie Rickenbacker expressing strong personal opinions on subjects ranging from the United Nations to government competition with private enterprise.

But none of it added up to the promise of the program's title, "Thunder on the Right," or revealed a real conservative movement in the making. It concentrated on what were obviously small groups and passionately anti-Communist.

It sure is disillusioning to see what lack of steady television employment can do to a man.

Take Victor Jory, for instance. For several past seasons we've been seeing him as Lt. Funtucane, brave, calm and clever arm of the San Diego police force in "Man Hunt."

The series was abandoned last year and just the other night, on one of ABC's cops-and-robbers tales, there was our former hero. In just that little time he had turned into a milk-drinking, pistachio professional killer called "The Deacon."

10,000th Trainee at Ft. Chaffee

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Pvt. Weldon R. Hamlett, 19, of Danville, Va., became the 10,000th trainee graduated by the 104th Division training outfit at Fort Chaffee Thursday.

The division, an Army Reserve group of some 3,000 men, began processing trainees last Oct. 31 after the post was reactivated during September.

Opponents Fight Dam for 30 Years

By JOHN JUTTON

POCAHONTAS, Ark. (AP) — "We've been fighting this dam for nearly 30 years — we just don't want it," Mack Dalton says of the proposed Eleven Point River dam.

On the other hand, advocates of the dam feel it would greatly enhance this sparsely populated region's economy through the influx of badly needed industry.

Men such as the 65-year-old Dalton appeared by the score earlier this week to tell Army Engineers, in colloquial terms, just why they oppose construction of the dam.

Proponents also had their say. Dalton's family owns 725 acres of land in the area which would be inundated by the dam's reservoir.

This same land was first settled by Dalton's great-grandfather in 1820 and the community of Dalton, 17 miles northwest of Pocahontas, was named for his father.

The Dalton community is in the heart of the Eleven Point River Valley which would be flooded by a reservoir extending northward 10 miles into Oregon County, Mo.

"I don't think they'll build the dam," Dalton said at the conclusion of the Army Engineers-conducted hearing.

But, shrugging his shoulders, he added: "I don't know where I'd go if they did."

"This is the way most opponents feel. And Sheriff Earl Chester warns that there 'will be no peace in the valley' until the issue is settled.

Armed with stacks of statistical data, proponents cite the area's declining economy and loss of population as prime reasons for the need of such a dam.

They say a hydroelectric dam would attract new industry which, in turn, would provide taxes and salaries for new schools, roads and other public facilities.

Side effects of such a dam, the proponents contend, would be a recreation lake attracting tourists and the start of a flood control program.

But this argument is countered by the opposition which claims "we

Power Firms to Issue Dividends

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Boards of directors of Middle South Utilities, Inc., and Arkansas Power & Light Co. announced stock dividends for both companies at a joint meeting here today.

Middle South is the parent firm of AP&L and three other operating utilities in Mississippi and Louisiana.

The Middle South board declared a first quarter dividend amounting to 26 1/2 cents a share, payable April 2 to shareholders of record on March 9. This common stock dividend is equivalent to an annual rate of $1.06 a share.

AP&L board members declared those first quarter dividends, payable to stockholders of record March 15: $1.08 per share on 70,000 shares of 4.32 per cent preferred stock; $1.18 per share on 93,500 shares of 4.72 per cent preferred stock, and $1.37 per share on 75,000 shares of 5.48 per cent preferred stock.

Astronaut Goes Into Seclusion With Family

By JOHN BARBOUR

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.—his name a household word and his face familiar to schoolchildren—sought seclusion today. Few Americans, including the President of the United States, would blame him.

For nearly three months he has been in the public eye.

But in something more than four fantastic hours Tuesday, he faced his grim task, and by his skill and the help of men of skill on the ground below, he accomplished it.

Friday he returned full circle to the place where his struggle was born, to Cape Canaveral and to Pad 14 where his Atlas rocket was launched and to Mercury Control where his friends and compatriots had waited and hoped for his safe return.

Probably the squeals and cheers of Cocoa Beach school children still ring in his ears—and the questions of newsmen and the glaring lights of television cameras are still in the recent threshold of memory.

But there, too, is the first look on the face of his wife, Anna, as he stepped from the plane that brought him to Patrick Air Force Base. And still he must remember the look of expectancy in the eyes of his daughter, Lynn, 14, and his son, David, 16, as he disembarked.

He must remember, too, the pride and interest David had as he peered into the heart of the spaceship that had carried his father three times around the world in a frenzied orbit through space.

Glenn could probably remember something of his own words as he explained the equipment dangling, now almost uselessly, inside.

"Our boosters may not be as large as some others," President Kennedy had said, "but our men and women are."

The President had made the remark before presenting Glenn with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Distinguished Service Medal.

After the ceremony in front of Hangar S, where Glenn had trained and donned his space suit for his adventure last Tuesday, Glenn and his family and a few guests retired into the hangar for lunch.

Later, after the President had departed for Palm Beach, Glenn sat before a row of senators and congressmen and a tent nearby full of newsmen and tried to impart something of his adventure to the American public.

"It was very spectacular, looking out into this orange glow and seeing those big flaming chunks go back along the flight path," Glenn said of the only incident that caused him "major concern" during the entire flight.

He already had conquered the problem of control of the spacecraft after the automatic control equipment had proved too costly in terms of precious fuel.

Then, after the decision to try a third orbit of the earth, a new problem had cropped up. Glenn's first warning came in a word from the ground below.

Don't jettison your braking rockets after they have fired, he was told.

These are rockets that slow the spacecraft for its plunge to earth. They are at the bottom of the bell-shaped spaceship.

Immediately below the rocket package is the shield that protects the spacecraft and the space pilot from burning up in the enormous heat of reentry into the earth's atmosphere.

The men below, alerted by a warning light, felt that this heat shield might have come loose. The rocket package, held in place by metal straps, also could hold the heat shield in place until the danger period was over.

Farm Captains Meet Monday

Farm Bureau Township Captains will meet at the Diamond Cafe on Monday night, Feb. 26 at 7:30. Aubrey Wilson, chairman of the membership drive, urges all captains to attend so that a report on the total number of members in Farm Bureau can be reported.

Hempstead County Farm Bureau now has enrolled a total of 478 members for the 1962 year.

Blevins' Smith Makes Another

Smith, 6'8" Blevins center looms in two of his 39 points in the District B tourney last night but it wasn't enough as Amity went on to win 64-60. The score was tied 58 all with 1 1/2 minutes to go and Smith fouled out. Amity made a one and one, Harris knotted it with a 15 footer, but Blevins fouled twice more and that was the game. In the second contest Kirby edged Empire 54-52 in OT. Thus the finals tonight pairs Kirby and Amity at 8.

Legally, Where There Is a Will There Is a Way—to Make Less Complications

By MARY ANITA LASETER

The beginning and the ending are the two most important parts of anything, whether it is telling a story, singing a song, or making a speech. This is also true of a human life, especially from the legal standpoint. Have you ever thought about it and, more important, have you done anything about it?

In case you don't follow this train of thought, let's go back to the preceding paragraph. The legal beginning of life is a requirement, and every baby born has to have a birth certificate. Unfortunately, the same is not yet true of the end of life, when everyone should have a will.

Don't make the mistake of thinking only those with vast wealth need to make a will. Everyone should have a will. Oh, you say you've had one for a long time? Well, good. Maybe. Times change, you know, and a will must be up-to-date. Is yours? There is a constant change in the make-up of a family and in the economy of our land (as if you hadn't noticed).

No one likes to discuss a subject like death and its possibilities but it is something everyone must face just as sure as the earth turns on its axis. The real trouble comes for those who are left, if you have not taken care of important instructions regarding your business, your home, your life insurance, any stocks, trusts, mortgages and above all, the competent management of dollars that are left.

Any lawyer or trust office in a bank will tell you that it is just as important for the wife to have her affairs in the legal order found in a properly drawn-up will as it is for the husband to do so.

Oh, wipe that coy smile off your face. We now what you are thinking. "What's yours is mine what's mine is yours" was sweet sentimentality in decades gone by. But things aren't quite so simple anymore. The most modest of possessions still constitute an "estate," and the proper handling of it can be made much easier with a will.

Just a word of caution. Will-writing is not a do-it-yourself job. You should be guided by a competent lawyer, and this could be Step One in better understanding of your goals.

"Understanding" is a word too often by-passed by laymen and laywomen in dealing with legal matters, for the language is often beyond our comprehension. In such cases, the terms should be "translated" into words within the realms of our comprehension, not for the actual legal writings but for our audible understanding.

Make a legal, up-to-date will, and be sure that your will and your spouse's complement each other and have not been so rigidly composed that they cannot weather the storms of time.

We might say, "Where there is a will, there is a way — a way to make everything much less complicated for all concerned."

O. D. Middlebrooks, Champion Melon Grower, Dies

Oscar D. Middlebrooks, aged 76, a lifelong resident of Hempstead County, died last night in a local hospital. Mr. Middlebrooks was widely known all over the world as the champion watermelon grower of all time. In 1935 he produced the world's largest watermelon, a 195-pounder that has never been equaled since. The melon was shipped to Arkansas-born Actor and Producer Dick Powell in Hollywood, Calif., a presentation from the City of Hope.

Mr. Middlebrooks is survived by his wife, two sons, Melvin of Shreveport and Arnold of Middlebrooks of Hope; a brother, Tom of Hope and a sister, Mrs. M. T. Hubbard of Hope, Rt. 4.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at Walnut Street Church of Christ. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius will be in Macedonia Cemetery.

Sleeping Sickness

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Health Department has reported three cases of encephalitis, or sleeping sickness, in Arkansas this year. There were 27 Arkansas cases of the inflammatory disease of the brain in 1961, but none last year. It appears as the complication of another disease. Some cases can cause brain damage.

Kennedy Turns Down Bid From Khrushchev

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—

President Kennedy is reported to have formally turned down Soviet Premier Khrushchev's latest demand for a summit meeting to open next month's disarmament conference in Geneva.

The President's reply was expected to reach the U. S. Embassy in Moscow today for relay to the Kremlin. The U. S. government probably will make it public in a day or two.

In Washington, it was understood that Kennedy again had urged Khrushchev to agree to a meeting of U. S., British and Soviet foreign ministers a few days in advance of the Geneva meeting, probably March 10.

Khrushchev's summit proposal was rejected informally earlier this week by the State Department. Kennedy was reported Friday night to have given approval to a formal rejection.

He had had some time earlier to study a translation of Khrushchev's proposal.

In his 2,500-word declaration, Khrushchev hewed to the Soviet line that disarmament was such an important subject only chiefs of state should tackle it. Accordingly, in tougher terms than before he called on Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to reconsider their decision against a summit meeting to open the 18-nation disarmament conference in Geneva March 14.

Kennedy and Macmillan have said they favor starting the conference at the foreign ministers level, with a summit session to be held later if real progress developed.

Kennedy and Macmillan were reported in Washington to have discussed by telephone their reply to Khrushchev. It was considered likely that Macmillan's reply also was going out this weekend.

Macmillan was understood to have urged Kennedy to maintain the same flexible attitude toward a possible summit meeting in the spring that the two had indicated in their previous messages to Khrushchev.

There was some indication in Washington that Macmillan feared Kennedy's reply would reflect U. S. toughening on the summit issue. Macmillan wished to avoid this.

Informants said the main concern of the two Western leaders now is to obtain from Khrushchev a definitive reply to their proposal for opening negotiations at the foreign ministers level.

Kennedy took time out Friday from the heavier matters of state to help heap the nation's honors on Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the first American to fly in a space capsule around the globe.

Kennedy flew up to Cape Canaveral, Fla., to greet Glenn, look over the spacecraft from which the astronaut rode a roaring rocket aloft, and bestow a medal on him. Monday Kennedy, Glenn and the astronaut's family will fly to Washington and another massive welcome.

Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew separately to Palm Beach after the President had seen Glenn. Kennedy and Johnson, who is head of the President's Advisory Council on Space, lunched together and discussed the U. S. space program.

Testimony Begins in Murder Case

MARION, Ark. (AP) — Testimony begins today in the first degree murder trial of Willie Ewings, 36, an Earle Negro, charged with killing his girl friend with a shotgun blast in the back as she watched television.

A jury was selected in Circuit Court Thursday.

Police said Ewings was seriously wounded a few minutes after the Negro girl was shot when he tried to force Dock Williams, 80, who lived nearby, to drive him in a getaway.

Officers said Williams fired a shotgun at Ewings in self defense.

Carrier Walking to Prove Point

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio (AP)—A 31-year-old letter carrier here is hiking to Washington, D.C., to alert the public to the aims of postal employees in seeking a wage increase.

Ed Kline, who walks 12 miles daily on his job in this suburban Akron community, says he hopes to average nearly 35 miles a day on his 10-day trek to the nation's capital, site of a national rally for postal employees March 5.

He left the post office here shortly after 8 a.m. today and was accompanied to the city limits by 40 fellow letter carriers and about a dozen wives of carriers.

Kline is carrying only enough cash—donated by other carriers—to buy meals. He plans to seek free lodging from other postal employees along the 325-mile route. His only provisions are an extra change of clothing and an extra pair of shoes.

"I decided to walk to better alert the public to our aims," he said. "Besides, I enjoy walking."

He explained that the weather was another reason he was walking instead of riding.

"I want to let people know we're out in all kinds of it," he said.

Africa's Upper Nile is so badly clogged with the lavender water hyacinth that natives can walk on top of the river.

Examination Planned of Space Ship

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Engineers and technicians today examined the Friendship 7 spaceship which John H. Glenn Jr. rode into orbit Tuesday.

Except for some surface scorching from the 3,000-degree re-entry heat, a preliminary look showed it to be in exceptionally good condition, reported a spokesman for McDonnell Aircraft Co., which made the capsule.

He said these two areas are receiving special attention.

They are the automatic attitude control system which malfunctioned slightly and forced Glenn to take over partial manual control for much of the 4-hour 56-minute space journey when one of 18 gas jets on the capsule surface apparently failed to work, reducing effectiveness of control on the yaw axis; and the difficulty Glenn had trying to exit the capsule after the craft had been pulled from the sea and placed on the deck of the destroyer Noa.

Egress involves removal of a parachute canister and other equipment. But after several minutes trying to remove a section of instrument panel, the astronaut gave up and pushed a plunger which blew out an escape hatch on the side.

In practice sessions, Glenn had been able to leave within a few minutes. He had hoped to avoid blowing the hatch to keep the capsule as intact as possible.

An Air Force plane flew the spacecraft here from Grand Turk Island Wednesday. The plane crew had written on it: "Rescued from the Navy by the 17th Air Transport Squadron, Charleston Air Force Base, S.C."

Earlier, sailors of the Noa had added two Noa decals, similar to baggage stickers used by travelers.

The searing re-entry heat had nearly wiped out the Friendship 7 label and an American flag

Prince Celebrates With a Shiner

TOKYO (AP)—Prince Hiro, second in line to the throne of Japan, celebrated his second birthday today sporting a shiner. The son of Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko bruised his right eye a few days ago when he fell while trying to climb on his mother's bed—but he posed for an official photograph anyway.

He was painted on the side. But large white letters spelling out "United States" were only partly obscured. Glenn was protected from the heat by a heat shield at the base of the vehicle.

After several weeks study, Friendship 7 probably will be taken to either the Smithsonian Institution in Washington or to Langley Air Force Base, Va., headquarters of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's space task group.

The Freedom 7 capsule which Alan B. Shepard Jr. rode on a suborbital space trip last year has an honored place in the Smithsonian. The Liberty Bell 7 which bore Virgil I. Grisson on a similar trip sank in the Atlantic after landing.

The capsules which chimpanzees Ham and Enos rode and several used in instrument flights are on display at Langley. Those may be moved to Houston, Tex., where the space task group soon will shift its operation.

Mrs. James Kenneth Byers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde DeLois Vandergrift of El Dorado, La. Politechnic Institute, Ruston, La. studying Secretary Science. He is a Senior at the U of A, Hope, exchanged wedding vows with Judge and Mrs. Orie Byers of Hope, Feb. 16 at the Beacon, Ing.

Madeline Elizabeth Perez, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. J. M. Perez of Pacific Grove, Calif. and 2-Lt. Bishop Lee Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Lane of Hope were wed Feb. 3 in a military wedding at the St. Angela's Catholic Church in Pacific Grove. Rev. William Lane performed the ceremony.

Calta lilies, white stock, and salmon gladioli were placed at the Altar. Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of lace and net in three tiers. Her shoulder-length veil was attached to a crown of pearls. She carried a bouquet of phloxes and pink roses.

Miss Bea Broussard was maid of honor and Capt. Theodore F. Maggiolet Jr. was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held in the Presidia Officers Club in Monterey.

The couple will make their home in Pacific Grove, Calif.

New Criticism by Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus had fresh criticism Wednesday for a University of Arkansas speech in which a New York marriage counselor reportedly advocated pre-marital sex relations.

Faubus referred to a speech made in Fayetteville last week by Dr. Albert Ellis. The governor called the talk "as reprehensible as anything that has ever occurred."

Speaking to a Little Rock civic club, Faubus said university officials were not to blame, but he warned, "It behooves us to be awake to what is going on in our midst."

Faubus said again he felt Ellis' appearance at the university was an indication "there are those who would come in and destroy what we have."

don't want to surrender our homes for a pleasure lake."

As for flood control, an earlier survey by the engineers showed this was not a strong enough argument to warrant expenditure of the millions of dollars necessary for the project.

Some proponents have said privately they may pack up and leave this northeast Arkansas area if the dam falls through once again.

Many have already left Randolph and surrounding counties to seek jobs elsewhere.

But this is true of many rural areas of Arkansas as well as other parts of the country.

Would construction of such a dam, as proponents say, help bring these workers back and stem further outflow?

The opposition thinks not. But in any event, it will be many months before a recommendation is prepared by the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

This week's hearings were authorized by Congress and were merely to be the base from which engineers would conduct further studies into the need for an Eleven Point River dam.

The final decision of whether to build the dam must come from Washington.

Flash Mutiny

centers during the night to pave the way for a coup.

Inonu was cut off the air when he tried to speak over radio Ankara defending his coalition government. Tanks and troops surrounded the building.

The mutiny apparently was confined to the signal corps, the war academy and armored school and an officers' gendarmierie school. But for a time it had appeared that other army elements might back the mutineers.

The crisis forced leaders of all four political parties, including Inonu, to sign a joint declaration pledging themselves to work to salvage democracy in Turkey. They appealed to the armed forces to avoid provocations.

The turning point came when the three armies which garrisoned the country from the Greek border to the Soviet frontier, announced they would take orders only from General Sunay.

There were no casualties reported in the uprising. But the movement of tanks and troops in and out of the capital plus the feeling stirred by the affair caused a public jolt which would take some time to overcome.

Wants Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former actress Dolores Moran, 35, wants a divorce from film producer Benedict E. Bugeaus, 57. She charges cruelty.

Mine was a kid marriage—I being 14, my husband 18. Our parents opposed our going steady, so we eloped. I have a year-old son with another baby on the way.

My husband is a soldier and my fingers to the bone trying to keep an ugly apartment halfway decent. Being untrained, I'm never caught up with housework. No matter how hard I try, there is always another wash to do, another basket of clothes waiting to be ironed. My hands are chapped, skin coarsened and face worn.

I'm growing old before my time. In another way, God has been good to me for I'm blessed with a kind, understanding husband and a baby I love dearly. If it weren't for a faith in God which came to me when there seemed no way out, my child and marriage would have died in the making. As an Army wife 3,000 miles from my parents, I am on my own. If my husband and I had

FBI Director Warns of Communism

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, accepting the Freedoms Foundation award as the American who made the most outstanding contribution to freedom in 1961, said today the United States needs more than ever modern-day patriots to fight crime and communism.

"We desperately need patriotism founded on a real understanding of the American ideal—a dedicated belief in our principles of freedom and a determination to perpetuate America's heritage," he said.

He and other top winners were honored in a remodeled colonial barn that overlooks historic Valley Forge where George Washington's troops spent the winter of 1777-78. A fresh layer of overnight snow covered the rolling hills.

Hoover, in his prepared talk, said the nation is losing its battle against crime and hastening disaster "when we tolerate weaknesses in the administration of justice—weaknesses which enable repeated undeserved leniencies to be showered upon vicious young thugs, robbers, rapists and murderers," He added:

"Crime has a partner in forming the common denominator of a breakdown in moral behavior; it is the influence of godless communism."

"Khrushchev, Castro and other leaders of the Communist world have staked their futures on the belief that an army of slaves dragging their chains can overtake free Americans, some of whom they see dragging their feet. It is not enough to be against communism. We must shed our complacency and aggressively meet this challenge."

It was the second time the foundation, in its 13-year history, has given Hoover its top award, the George Washington Medal. It is worth $5,000.

Congo Premier Accused by UN

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations accused President Moise Tshombe today of preparing for a new military showdown with its force.

It expressed doubt about the Katanga president's good faith in seeking a peaceful settlement with the rest of the Congo.

In sharp departure from a recent atmosphere of conciliation and confidence concerning Katanga, the United Nations said Tshombe's military action in north Katanga violates conditions laid down by the United Nations.

Reliable sources said the central government is airlifting troops toward the north Katanga town of Albertville in anticipation of an all-out attack by Katangan gendarmierie. Tshombe's troops reoccupied the town of Kongolo early this week after central government forces had withdrawn.

The United Nations said it intends to send a military mission to Kongolo without delay dispute Tshombe's opposition.

The U.N. charges were made in a sarcastic and tough statement handed to newsmen by U.N. headquarters spokesman Dirk Lehmkuhl.

is: we married young and she's never grown up.

I thought a man's home was his castle. Mine is a rock pile. After a hard day at the office I return to find a sink full of dishes, beds unmade, the dinner not ready and my wife either sprawled in a chair watching some cockeyed Western or jolting on the couch, nose buried in a trashy novel. I end up putting things to rights so as not to cause embarrassment to myself (not my wife) or friends who drop in of an evening. If I so much as utter a mild peep about the tenebrous condition of our home, she flares up then sulks for weeks after. I am 25, she 24, and we have two children who wander about unwashed and ragged. Help! I'm at my wits' end.—Tired Husband

Dear Triad: Shame your wife into her senses. Stop playing man-of-all-work. Let the house look like a pigsty. When friends drop in, explain with a smile that your wife is a know-nothing when it comes to running a home, and say it loud enough for her to hear. You might refer a little wistfully to the well-kept home of some friend. Fur may fly at the start but gradually your wife will get busy, if only to prove how wrong you are.

A psychologist might see in your wife's indifference to the home, an indication of some deep-rooted marital trouble. Are you and she otherwise happy in your marriage?

Handwriting On the Wall

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: This is addressed to the teen-age girls who write to you complaining that their parents won't let them go steady or marry. Papa and Mama don't know what real love is — so the kids say—and therefore don't understand.

Take it from me, teen-agers don't know what love is. They think marriage is one long honeymoon. I thought so too.

Mine was a kid marriage—I being 14, my husband 18. Our parents opposed our going steady, so we eloped. I have a year-old son with another baby on the way.

My husband is a soldier and my fingers to the bone trying to keep an ugly apartment halfway decent. Being untrained, I'm never caught up with housework. No matter how hard I try, there is always another wash to do, another basket of clothes waiting to be ironed. My hands are chapped, skin coarsened and face worn.

I'm growing old before my time. In another way, God has been good to me for I'm blessed with a kind, understanding husband and a baby I love dearly. If it weren't for a faith in God which came to me when there seemed no way out, my child and marriage would have died in the making. As an Army wife 3,000 miles from my parents, I am on my own. If my husband and I had of marriage I'm still kicked around like an old shoe by the wife I support in the house my wife I say for. The cold truth,

Utah Remains in Tourny Picture

By JIM HACKLEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer

Utah's Redskins are having quite a bit to do with the college basketball tournaments picture, even though they've been penalized out of the post-season competition themselves.

Utah was rapped with a one-year NCAA probation at mid-season, barring the Utes from both the NCAA and National Invitation tournaments. Since then they've been concentrating on winning the Skyline title and, as a by-product, deciding which of their conference rivals goes to the NCAA and which goes to the NIT.

The Redskins took undisputed possession of the league lead Thursday night with a 78-76 victory at Utah State that knocked the Aggies into a second place tie with Colorado State University.

Should the Utes show their impartiality by beating CSU next Thursday they probably would hand the conference's NCAA berth to Utah State and send CSU into the NIT, which reportedly is holding open a spot for a Skyline team.

New York University and Detroit, two at-large entries for the NCAA tourny, won tight ones in a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden in New York. NYU's Violets again showed their exceptional balance in trimming Holy Cross 84-80 after Dave Debusschere had led Detroit to a der Mrs. M. S. Riley and the Gospel Chorus under direction of Miss Jessie Witherspoon. Guest soloists will be Charlie English and Jim (Son) Witherspoon. Also featured will be the Mens Chorus of Rising Star, Rev. M. S. Riley pastor.

The second one act play to be staged by Yengers Dramatic Club at Harris Gym Thursday night, March 1, is "Rusty From Red-rock."

Rusty, a small town girl, passed up the chance to marry her boyfriend sweetheart, and went to New York for a stage career. She was unsuccessful. Pride prevented her from acknowledging it to her friends back home, instead she wrote that she was extremely happy, successful and rapidly becoming famous.

When she received a telegram from her boyfriend sweetheart notifying her that he was on his way to see her, something had to be done in a hurry. The actors are Gwendolyn Douglas, Patricia Alexander, Olie Jones, Mattie Rutherford and Steve Brown.

The Junior Anna P. Strong Club will sponsor a program featuring the Wilson High School Choir of Malvern, Sunday, March 4 at 3 p.m. in Harris Gym. Admission Adults 35c; High School 25c and elementary students 15c.

Who can measure the length of a thought! Especially the thought of a child! A good thought is like the acorn, which becomes the Live Oak tree, which may live for a thousand years. Some thoughts are much longer than that. Aristotle urged upon men the 'golden mean,' and many business men today are following him; he lived three hundred years before the beginning of our era. The decalogue, or Ten Commandments, are long thoughts about how women and men should live. Perhaps the thoughts stirring in this child's mind have been dropped there by a parent or by a teacher or by a neighbor. Isn't it rather wonderful that you and I can start a train of thinking and of living, in a child, that may go on forever? How long is "forever?" That is how long some thoughts are.

Can you remember a word spoken to you in the long ago? Some of us treasure what seemed a chance thought passed to us by a careful teacher many years ago. When the soil is right and a mind is eager to know, seeds are precious. Have you learned a lesson that you count of great value? Do you wish that someone had passed it to you when you were young? Then why not do for some other child what you wish had been done for you? Would you not like to live forever in the esteem of another? Perhaps the child is our opportunity for some worthwhile immortality. Help her leave for posterity some long thoughts. What a pity that a good thought or a bit of wisdom we have garnered through many years should die with us! It does not need to die. The child near you is the good soil into which you may drop the good seed thought. "A sower went forth to sow." Every woman and every man is a sower. Is the seed good that we sow? What will the harvest be, for the thoughts we are putting into the minds of retentive childhood? Your thoughts and mine may become inspiring or discouraging thoughts to these precious persons that we love. Is it important then that we think straight, clean, sweet, kind, loving thoughts? These should be long thoughts. Attend your church regularly.
